

International conference

The conference is inserted in the frame of the Peace March from Perugia to Assisi, the main important appointment of Italian peace movement, started in 1961 by Aldo Capitini, philosopher, political, anti-fascist, poet and popular educator, voice of the first nonviolent and peace movement after the second world war.

EUROPE & MEDITERRANEAN Places of peace and rights: for all or for the few?

Europe has to take a decision to be protagonist and accountable interlocutor for political solution of conflicts, wars and fighting poverties all around Mediterranean region, or to be responsible of the multiple crisis surrounding Europe, not stopping to the borders or building walls, old or new ones. This conference through three thematic panels, will open the floor to different voices from Europe, Mediterranean region and Africa, civil society organizations and institutions.
